

Plan International Ireland: Youth Advisory Panel (<https://www.activelink.ie/node/112912>)

Plan International Ireland is currently looking for new members to join the Youth Advisory Panel for activities in 2025 and beyond!

Plan International Ireland works with and not just for young people. We recognise that young people are a vital and largely untapped resource that is often missing from global justice work. Our Youth Advisory Panel (YAP) engages young people aged 16-24 as ambassadors and advisors to Plan International Ireland. Through advocacy and activism, our YAP members stand in solidarity with young campaigners around the world to make change happen both in Ireland and internationally.

What does being part of the YAP involve?

Campaigning

The panel creates and implements campaigns on global justice issues affecting the rights of children and girls to influence decision-makers in Ireland and internationally.

Working with Plan

The panel engages with Plan International Ireland staff, acting as a voice for youth in the organisation and being actively involved in decision-making for Plan.

Personal Development

YAP members get the chance to develop and grow their skills in teamwork, public speaking, communication, advocacy and much more!
