The Role

The role of this worker is to provide support to families within the community, with a primary focus on families with school aged children 0-7 years, including parents to be. Using key principals of community development, the Family Support Worker will work from a social justice perspective in an inclusive manner with parents. They will;

- Provide practical supports, administrative assistance and information to families including assisting families, where needed, to link with and attend mainstream and specialist services and advocate on their behalf.
- Use a needs-based approach to work in collaboration with families to identify and understand their needs.
- Supporting families to have a voice and to express their needs.
- Support parents to develop the competencies and skills necessary in their role as primary carers and educators for their children.
- Work with families to ensure best outcomes for families in; education, health and well-being, achieving full potential, security of economy and opportunity and connectedness to the community.
- Use outreach and being present in the community as a key method of engagement to develop relationships with families.
- Work in partnership with parents through one to one and group work.
- Using a strengths-based approach to support developing family capacity.
- Support the implementation of individual plans with families with a focus on Meitheal where necessary.
- Following a settling in period, conduct home visits to support parents and proactively improve the home learning environment.
- Engaging families with evidence-based parenting programmes, family mentoring and evidence informed interventions as required.
- Work closely with the DHCDCA Health Team and outreach team to promote and support local voluntary and community activities that benefit the target groups associated with the role.

Experience and qualifications

Essential

- A relevant 3rd level qualification in areas such as family support, community development, health, social work etc.
- Minimum 1 year post qualification experience of working with vulnerable families
- Experience and skills in group facilitation
- Experience of team working and collaborating with other professionals
- Report writing skills
- Knowledge and understanding of developing and progressing evidenced based and informed work with families to improve outcomes for children
- Understanding of social issues and how they can impact on families and children (e.g., drug and alcohol abuse, domestic violence, anti-social behaviour, mental health issues, bereavement, poor housing conditions etc.)

Desirable

- Experience of planning, implementing, and reviewing programmes
- Networking skills and ability to work with a range of voluntary and statutory agencies
- Experience of evidence-based family support methodologies/approaches with experience of home visiting and Meitheal
