

Galway City Partnership: Employment Guidance Officer

(<https://www.activelink.ie/node/115843>)

Employment Guidance Officer

Overview

Galway City Partnership is a local and community development company that has worked since 1996 to tackle disadvantage and social exclusion, in the city through, community education and employment supports.

The Local Area Employment Service (LAES) is a contracted service funded by the Department of Social Protection that primarily supports long term unemployed individuals who are the furthest from the labour market focusing on helping them progress towards a suitable employment. The LAES offers a range of core services available to all clients along with targeted services provided based on individual needs.

Role

The Employment Guidance Officer (EGO) role will be to support long-term unemployed clients of the Local Area Employment Service (LAES) through the provision of career path planning and employment guidance to support them to find suitable employment opportunities. The EGO will work with clients to understand any barriers they are facing to gaining employment and identify any potential solutions including the provision of training opportunities, CV development, or other tailored solutions as deemed appropriate.

The EGO will report to the Head of Employment Supports and/or the LAES Team Leader.

Key Responsibilities

- To manage the client caseload of referrals from DSP effectively, ensuring that client appointments are managed in line with DSP expectations and KPI's, including all client communication and maintenance of client files and reports.
- To facilitate and enable all clients within the defined target groups to access employment, training and education opportunities which will support the progression of the client into appropriate employment and economic independence.
- To work on a one-to-one basis with clients, ensuring that you are providing an individualized and positive service that is respectful and supportive of clients and their needs.
- To make a positive contribution to the services of the LAES, working in a friendly, welcoming and person-centered environment
- To proactively engage with clients online to provide virtual guidance and support as required.
- To ensure that the highest standards of integrity and confidentiality are maintained in the EGO-client relationship
- To work with clients to build realistic expectations on their potential pathways to employment, dealing sensitively with unrealistic or impractical assumptions on what can be achieved.
- To work with difficult-to-place job seekers that may have many challenges when entering the labour market, helping them to find solutions to their individual barriers and supporting them to take the necessary steps.
- To refer clients to appropriate support services as required, understanding the best 'fit' for their individual needs.
- To maintain caseload records and to build a case study portfolio and general statistical information.
- Where and when appropriate, to provide group training to clients in your area of expertise.
- To assist clients to create their CV and prepare for job interviews.
- Meet targets and milestones, as defined in our Key Performance Indicators, and support our clients in the development of their Personal Progression Plans.
- Understand the recruitment needs of local employers and identify relevant opportunities at the level appropriate to

- individual clients' aspirations, experience and educational background
- The EGO is responsible on a day-to-day basis to their supervisor and will carry out such tasks and duties as may be assigned to enhance the overall service provided by the LAES.

Understand and support the ethos and aims of Galway City Partnership with regards to supporting the long-term unemployed, their communities and tackling social exclusion.
