

The Open Community: Communications & Marketing Manager (<https://www.activelink.ie/node/116166>)

Organisation: The Open Community
Job Title: Communications & Marketing Manager
Type: Full Time Remote in Ireland
Salary: €45-50k
Closing Date: 9am 30th June 2025

Description:

"Ready to make a lasting impact through community-led refugee welcome?"

At The Open Community (<https://theopencommunity.ie/>), we're driven by a powerful mission: to empower displaced people to rebuild their lives in welcoming communities across Ireland. Through community sponsorship, hosting networks, and support pathways, we're helping communities directly support refugees in resettling and integrating.

The Open Community is at a pivotal moment, having evolved from its roots with Amnesty International to become an independent organisation with a dedicated board and several exciting new projects. These include Ireland's Humanitarian Admissions Program and two EU-funded projects; the GROWTH Project - an initiative to expand community sponsorship and strengthen housing solutions across Ireland, Germany, and Italy, and the STEP Project, which aims to strengthen and scale labour pathways for displaced people across Ireland, Italy and Spain.

We're seeking a Communications and Marketing Manager to lead and deliver our communications across all programmes. This role is ideal for someone who is highly collaborative, proactive, and passionate about using storytelling to build empathy and drive change.

In addition to supporting our European projects, you'll lead on the development of The Open Community's communications strategy, strengthening our brand, and ensuring our message reaches the right audiences—from potential volunteers to policymakers. You will work across multiple projects simultaneously, identifying synergies and maintaining a high standard of coordination and delivery."
