

Northern Ireland Council for Voluntary Action (NICVA) (<https://www.activelink.ie/node/275>)

NICVA is the Northern Ireland Council for Voluntary Action, the representative body for voluntary, community and charitable groups in Northern Ireland.

As well as representing our sector's interests in Northern Ireland, NICVA provides over 1100 members member organisations with information, advice and training on a wide range of issues.

Voluntary and community organisations or non-governmental organisations play a huge role in the life of Northern Ireland. There is a high level of public participation in voluntary action.
