
Dementia Elevator (<https://www.activelink.ie/node/27753>)

Dementia Elevator is an education and empowerment programme to help individuals, communities and health systems engage with and support people with dementia. On this site you will find a range of free training programmes and other resources which you can use to learn more about supporting people with dementia.

The main motivation behind Dementia Elevator is to achieve ageing in place for people with dementia, by ensuring that there are people with the right skills to make staying at home a more obvious choice than is currently the case.
