

Northern Visions/NvTv (<https://www.activelink.ie/node/387>)

Northern Visions is a media centre in Belfast offering training, access and media production in radio, television, film and video.

The provision of skilled support services, both people and technical, realises high quality programming and offers opportunities to people marginalised by main stream media or denied self and/or collective expression.

Members of Northern Visions have been involved in community based media and arts projects since 1972 and were amongst the first to initiate community video projects in Ireland.

Northern Visions has been awarded a license by OfCom for a free-to-air, terrestrial community television service for the Belfast area: check www.nvtv.co.uk (<http://www.nvtv.co.uk>)
