

AFri (<https://www.activelink.ie/node/587>)

Afri is a group of committed and creative people who seek to promote debate and influence policy and practice in Ireland and internationally on human rights, peace and justice issues.

Afri, in particular, responds to injustice in the world caused by war and other violent conflict.

Afri exists to promote the vision of, and strive to bring into being, a more just, more equal and more peaceful world through research, debate, awareness raising and action in partnership with marginalised people affected by, or engaged with, issues of equity and security, especially in the global 'South'.
