

Kids' Own Publishing Partnership (<https://www.activelink.ie/node/60>)

Kids' Own Publishing Partnership is an initiative to validate children's creative skills as writers and illustrators and bring a rich arts experience to young people.

We publish high quality materials written and illustrated by children for other readers.

The first edition publications are produced through hands-on print using silk screen and other print media. Some titles are then reprinted, distributed and sold in bookshops.

Our aims:

- To promote reading including a visual literacy
- To engage children in the creative process of working together towards a shared outcome
- To produce a limited edition of a publication in each project
- To stimulate publishing in schools beyond the boundaries of the project
- To reach those who may otherwise have limited access to arts projects
- To edit and reprint publications which fulfil wider curriculum criteria and distribute these to a wider audience either through the Internet or conventional printing
- To evaluate and develop the publications as models for extending children's experience as readers and writers and illustrators.
