

Fingal Volunteer Centre (<https://www.activelink.ie/node/659>)

Fingal Volunteer Centre is an independent and free matching service. We provide information and advice to people interested in volunteering and to organisations looking for volunteers in the Fingal area. We also advertise vacancies, advise people on their options and help organisations support their volunteers.

At the Fingal Volunteer Centre, people interested in volunteering can

- Find out about volunteering opportunities without having to make a commitment
- Talk to someone on the how, why and where of volunteering
- Get ongoing support and advice

We also help organisations interested in involving volunteers

- If you need volunteers they will try and source them for you
- They can visit you and help with any issues about taking on volunteers for the first time, or to review current procedures
- They will come and talk to you about anything to do with volunteering, such as references, good practice, or expenses.
