INSPIRE Campaign School

Join Women for Election's INSPIRE Campaign School and be the change you want to see in your community.

This training is designed for any woman who is interested in getting involved in political life and delivering change for the greater good of her community.

Delivered through three online training sessions over three weeks, INSPIRE will focus on the 3 C's- Confidence, Communication and Campaigns.

As a participant, you will work with experts who will demystify politics and show you the nuts and bolts of 'getting in'. You will work to develop your skills in campaigns, communication and confidence.

Each participant will receive an INSPIRE pack, which covers all course work, as well as a Women for Election tote bag. You will complete the training with the tools and direction to take your next step on your political journey, as well as the support of the Women for Election network.
