

Women's Aid Dundalk (<https://www.activelink.ie/node/93588>)

Women's Aid Dundalk is an organisation which believes in the basic rights of women who are, or who have lived with domestic violence. Refuge and support is available to all women and their children on an open door basis. It is a caring organisation, which provides a nurturing atmosphere for all involved. It enables personal growth and development through a philosophy of mutual aid and self-help.

Women's Aid Dundalk seeks to work towards the elimination of violence against women and their children in their own homes. Such violence occurs due to women's unequal position in society, and is a violation of women's human rights. The guiding principles of Women's Aid Dundalk are that the organisation is non-sectarian and non-racist regardless of class, creed, sexual orientation or physical ability.
