Beyond Stigma: (formerly The Work for Change) Supporting people on their journey from self-stigma to self-worth

What we do

- We work to tackle stigma and shame - from the inside out
- We work with vulnerable groups and on sensitive issues
- We focus on working with communities with few resources of their own

Why we do this

- To empower individuals and communities to bring about the change they need
- To create a more compassionate and peaceful society
- Because we believe that everyone has a right to a fulfilling life

How we do it

- We implement and monitor impactful programmes that promote self-inquiry and tackle beliefs and thinking
- We build on knowledge, skills and wisdom present in the community
- We tailor programmes to the communities and cultures they are for

Who we work with

- First and foremost with people and communities themselves
- With local groups and NGOs
- With universities, international aid agencies, governments and other stakeholders who have influence and decision-making power
